

SUPREME COURT RULING

CITY ATTORNEY EVANS MAKES REPORT IN CASE OF LOCAL WATER COMPANIES

August 8th, 1914.
Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale, Glendale, Cal.

Gentlemen: The supreme court of the state of California on August 3rd handed down an opinion in the cases of city of Glendale vs. Title Guarantee & Trust Company and the Miradero Water Company, appealed to the supreme court by said companies from an order of the railroad commission, issued about one year ago, directing the Title Guarantee & Trust Company, trustee for the bondholders of the Glendale Consolidated Water Company, and the Miradero Water Company at their own expense and cost to install meters and service connections to persons living in the city of Glendale along the lines or mains or pipelines of said companies, desiring connection for the service of water.

There were two questions involved in the appeal to the supreme court by the water companies: First, the water companies denied that under the law they were compelled to furnish at their own cost and expense the service connections and meters; second, they claim that the railroad commission of the state of California had not the jurisdiction to make the order.

In passing on the first question involved, the supreme court lays down the law as follows:

"A franchise giving the right to furnish water to the inhabitants of a city, at rates to be fixed, and to use the streets as a place in which to lay the necessary pipes, does not authorize the holder to charge consumers for the expense of laying service pipes from the main to consumers along the street, unless such right is conferred by some clause of the franchise or by some provision of law applicable to such service. The franchise to furnish water to the inhabitants includes the duty of conveying the water to the consumer. The inhabitants have been given no right to use the streets at all for the laying of pipes therein. Their use of the streets for that purpose would be a private use. They could not make the connection without unlawfully obstructing the public street. The company, therefore, does not perform its full duty except by laying the service pipe to the premises of the consumer. (See Hatch vs. Consumers' Co., 17 Idaho, 204; Consumers' Co. vs. Hatch, 224 U. S. 148; Pocastello W. Co. vs. Standley, 7 Idaho, 518; Bothwell vs. Consumers' Co., 13 Idaho, 568; Montgomery vs. McDade, 60 So. 798; Pine Bluff vs. Toney, 96 Ark. 345; International W. Co. vs. El Paso, 51 Tex. Civ. App. 321; Cleveland vs. Madden W. Co., 69 Wash. 541; State ex rel. vs. Hoquiam W. Co., 70 Wash. 682.) It is not claimed that there is anything in the nature of a contract between Glendale and either of the plaintiffs that would exempt them, or either of them, from the operation of this rule. There is no provision of the law of this state making it the duty of the consumer to lay the service pipe, or to pay the expense thereof. Section 549 of the civil code implies, if it does not actually express, the doctrine above stated. It declares that 'All corporations formed to supply water to cities or towns must furnish pure, fresh water to the inhabitants thereof, for family uses, so long as the supply permits, at reasonable rates and without distinction of persons, upon proper demand therefor. The board of supervisors or the proper city or town authorities, may prescribe proper rules relating to the delivery of water, not inconsistent with the laws of the state.' This makes it the duty of such corporations to deliver the water to the consumer and brings them within the rule. Any corporation actually engaged in supplying water to the inhabitants of a city must be deemed to be a corporation formed for that purpose, in any controversy between it and the consumer, or between it and the city, with regard to its duty under that section. While it continued to enjoy the franchise it could not escape the duty by showing that its articles of incorporation did not give it the authority to engage in the service. It follows that the regulation was one which could lawfully be imposed on the plaintiffs by the public agency to which the regulating power may be delegated by law.

The regulation of charges for service connections is not so directly related to the fixing of rates. We need not determine whether it is a part of that process or not, for it is included in other powers that were vested in cities at the time stated. Section 549 of the Civil Code, above quoted, gives the city authorities

KELLEY NOT FINED

ERRONEOUS REPORT IS CIRCULATED CONCERNING CASE BY THE PLAINTIFF

The report has been going the rounds of the papers that on complaint of a Mrs. Samson, N. C. Kelley of Casa Verdugo was fined $10 in Judge Melrose's court Monday for disturbing the peace, the complaint being that Mr. Kelley while out collecting water rentals had peeked through a window in the Samson house.

The truth of the whole matter is that Mr. Kelley has not been fined and probably never will be. He was arraigned before Judge Melrose's court Monday for disturbing the peace, but he plead not guilty. The hearing was set for August 28. There has been no evidence thus far to show that Mr. Kelley is guilty of disturbing the peace.

The report in The News Tuesday was obtained from the plaintiff in the case and it now develops that she received her information from Los Angeles papers. Judge Melrose informs us that the case has not been tried, but has been set for August 28.

DE LUXE APARTMENTS

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Kerker wish us to announce to their friends and neighbors that they have taken charge of the De Luxe apartments in the Jones & Evans building, corner Second and Brand, and while Mr. Kerker has had the opportunity of seeing a great number of the new apartments that have been built in Glendale, he says that "De Luxe" is certainly very appropriate in applying to this building, one of the fine features being the roof garden supplied with canopy seats and ferns. The enchantment of the new apartments can only be appreciated after personal observations.

QUOIT CLUBS TO MEET

The Long Beach Quoit Club will journey to Glendale tomorrow for a match game with the local quoit club. Glendale went down in defeat at their last match with Long Beach, and are anxious to win tomorrow's game.

There will be ten men on either side and the game promises to be a thriller, and the indications are that their previous records of high scores will be broken.

NOT A PLAY SHEET

The Glendale Evening News is open for truthful news, but its columns are not at the service of those who wish to make a play affair out of it. In the past few weeks written notices have been handed to us that were void of the truth, as we afterward learned. The little news accounts were, according to the one contributing them, written only for a joke. The columns of a reliable paper is not a place for such jokes.

Hereafter, if any false statement is handed us for publication, we will learn the name of the author and full publicity will be given.

ENJOYING VISIT IMMENSELY

Miss Inez Barber, a popular young lady who is visiting on the coast from Kansas City, and who for the past few days has been a house guest of her cousin, Mrs. Rebecca L. Cowan, 114 Orange street, will return to Los Angeles tonight, where she will remain with Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Collins of 617 South Burlington avenue prior to going to Long Beach for a week. Miss Barber, who has made a host of friends, is enjoying her visit immensely and expects to return to Glendale before departing for her home in the East.

PICNIC AT LA RAMADA

The annual picnic of the Ladies' Missionary Circle of the First Baptist church will be held at La Ramada at 3:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. The gentlemen are invited to a 6 o'clock dinner and it is hoped as many of the church and congregation as possible will be there.

A charge of 15 cents each will be made for services by the La Ramada management, but this fee includes tea, coffee or ice cream.

There has been a marked increase in the quantity of mutton and beef shipped to this country from Argentina as prices in the United States have advanced, and it is now announced that shipments from Australia will be begun at an early date.

In short, why not make it a crime to do business at all on a million dollar scale? Let us make an end of all industrial activities. They are pernicious.—Brooklyn Eagle.

ITEMS FROM TROPICO

VICTIMS OF AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT ARE REPORTED AS RESTING EASY

The victims of the automobile accident that occurred on Central avenue, near Tenth street, Monday evening, are improving as well as could be expected owing to the serious nature of their injuries. Mrs. Elizabeth Kuck (pronounced Cook), while having a number of bruises and lacerations, also received several broken ribs. Mr. Marek had a most restful night, though suffering from a number of severe bruises and abrasions of face and head. Little six-year-old Lucile Kuck is a most patient sufferer. An operation will be performed this afternoon, which surgeons deem absolutely necessary in order to relieve the little one's pain and suffering. Word comes from Thornycroft farm that John Fanset is quite comfortable. Mr. Michael Kuck and son, Edward Kuck, arrived from their home at Palmdale and are at the bedside of Mrs. Kuck and Lucile administering every comfort. E. L. Miller was resting comfortably. Mr. Miller is very solicitous regarding the condition of Mr. Marek, Mrs. Kuck and Lucile. Mr. Marek was going north on Central avenue at the time of the accident and not going west on Tenth street, as that thoroughfare east of Central avenue has been closed to traffic for several days due to improvements on Brand boulevard.

B. E. Murdock, the rising young dramatic playwright of Los Angeles, motored to Tropico Tuesday, having as his guest Monsieur Mojonier, one of the leading artists of Los Angeles. These distinguished artists were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Edward H. Weston.

Mrs. Ira J. Peck and daughters, Misses Olive and June Peck of Reedley, who are spending the summer at Long Beach, are the guests of Mrs. David H. Imler and Miss Marjorie Imler of Palm Villa.

Mr. and Mrs. McNaughton Barnes, accompanied by Miss Lucile Barnes and Masters Lewis and Pliny Barnes, have returned to their home on Walnut street after a week's sojourn at Balboa Beach.

Mrs. Edward H. Weston entertained as her guest at luncheon Tuesday Miss Enrica Jackson of Los Angeles.

NORTH GLENDALE

Mrs. Lillian Judd of San Rafael street, one of North Glendale's well-known nurses, is at present engaged caring for Mrs. John Chaffee of Ardmore avenue, Los Angeles, who is one of the pioneer residents of the Pico Heights section.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Craig of 1612 Fairmont avenue entertained at a prettily appointed dinner last evening Mrs. Craig's cousins, Mrs. E. A. Doran and daughter of Los Angeles and Mr. H. B. Tuttle of Hesperia.

Mrs. L. C. Leeds, Sr., who has been spending several months with her son, Mr. L. C. Leeds of 900 Dryden street, will leave in a few days for Michigan, where she will remain indefinitely.

A family by the name of Wilson has moved in one of the houses on Dryden street, Mr. Wilson being one of the employees of the county on road repairing.

Mr. and Mrs. William R. Wilbur of 1105 San Rafael street entertained as their guest for the day very recently Mr. Wilbur's sister, Mrs. Pipher of Boyle Heights, Los Angeles.

Mrs. Blanche Coughran of Ruth street is entertaining as her house guest for the week her sister, Miss Olive Finley of Perris, Cal.

Mrs. H. J. McDougall of 1305 Burchett street returned home Tuesday from a week's visit with friends at Newhall.

Mrs. J. M. VanStrum of 1616 Ruth street was the guest of friends in Los Angeles Tuesday.

Just a few years ago the press of America and Europe commented harshly upon the tactics of Japan in starting war with Russia without first making a declaration of war. And yet we now have the spectacle, evidently, of Germany starting war upon France with no declaration of war.—San Bernardino Index.

WAR NEWS VERY MEAGRE

News from the scene of European conflict is scarce, which fact is taken to presage big events. Troops seem to be active on the German-Belgian border in the vicinity of Liege and Namur and on the Alsatian frontier.

No report has been given out as to the number of British troops now cooperating with the Belgians and French. It is understood that the British troops are at Namur on the Meuse river waiting until the Germans have taken the forts at Liege to attack Namur, which is heavily fortified.

The Montenegrin and Servian armies have moved well into the interior of Bosnia and a general uprising of Bosnians to throw off Austrian rule is impending.

The relations between Italy and Austria are becoming more strained. Italy has demanded an explanation of the bombardment of the establishment of the Puglia company at Antivari, Montenegro, over which the Italian flag folats and in which there were Italians.

A state of war has been declared throughout Bulgaria in order to enable that government to guard the frontiers against violations.

Austrian troops occupy Mechow in Russian Poland ten miles within the border after defeating a body of Cosacks.

Even less definite news is obtainable about the movements on sea than about those on land. The closing of the North sea to British fishermen, the succession of reports from various North sea ports of firing and of movements of naval vessels, indicate that the great sea battle between the British and German fleets which has been expected since the declaration of war may be at hand.

SHAKESPEARE CLUB MEETS

At the home of Mrs. Richardson D. White, 1431 West Third street, Tuesday afternoon, members of the Mary Howard Gridley Shakespeare club enjoyed a very delightful afternoon of study and pleasure, "Julius Caesar" having been the topic of discourse.

Conclusive of the serious study of this most popular book, little Lillian Mason, the nine-year-old child wonder, gave three difficult selections from Schumann and played accompaniments for two numbers given by Mrs. Coral Harrison Sloan, her instructor. This was quite a treat, as little Lillian, although having had only six months' study, is a wonderfully gifted musician whose playing is nothing short of marvelous and who in later years, for she expects to complete her study under the very finest instructors in Germany, will be recognized among the leading musicians of the day.

It was decided at Tuesday's session that the club would hold an open meeting at the home of Mrs. W. W. Ramsey, 435 South Adams street, in September, when "Julius Caesar" will be given in costume with every member of the club in the cast. This promises to be something worth while and exceedingly interesting.

CONFIDENCE BRINGS CASH

Here is what I. W. Hellman says about the present business and financial conditions in California, and he ought to be a good judge:

"Business, the real business that counts, is in fair condition in California. My recent talks with jobbers and with retailers convince me of this. The day has come for the speculative Jeremiahs to stop talking hard times. Business is better in California than it is in any other part of the United States; better than it is in Europe. The speculative element has been hit no harder in this state than elsewhere.

"Any man can make himself poor or prosperous by the way he directs his mind. What is true of the individual is true of a community or a state. A man to succeed must be cheerful and the city must be cheerful. With cheerfulness and ordinary prudence and thrift, the man or the community will prosper."

SUICIDE AT LA CRESCENTA

James Fairgrieve, a Scotchman by birth, about 65 years of age, living about a half mile north of the La Crescenda store, committed suicide this morning about 11 o'clock by shooting.

Wm. Hall and Chas. Lytle, who were in the vicinity, heard the shot and went to the door and called. As there was no reply, they went in and found Mr. Fairgrieve's lifeless body on the bed. He had shot himself just below the heart with a double-barreled shotgun, having pulled the trigger by means of a cord tied around his foot. A large butcher-knife was lying near, as if he had been undecided as to which method of suicide he should employ.

Mr. Fairgrieve has two sons living, one of them being with the Standard Oil Company in China. He had imported skylarks from abroad and was engaged in breeding these birds at his La Crescenda home.

The remains were brought to the Pulliam undertaking parlors in Glendale, where they await final disposition.

PLANS MADE FOR PICNIC

At the special meeting of the board of St. Mark's Guild, which was held Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. C. Irving Mills, 442 South Louise street, plans were perfected for a picnic to be held next Wednesday, August 19th, at La Ramada and also for the Christmas bazaar that has been set for December 9th.

At the close of the business routine, dainty refreshments were served by the hostess and a social hour enjoyed.

PRETTY HOME WEDDING

NORTH GLENDALE YOUNG MAN TAKES LOS ANGELES LADY AS HIS HELPMATE

Garbed in elegant simplicity of rich white duchess satin and lace, Miss Marjorie Vivian French of Los Angeles, a petite little brunette of exceptional Irish beauty, made a most enhancing picture as she stood before the improvised altar in the home of Mrs. Edith Jenkins, 1468 Arden avenue, Tuesday evening, and plighted her troth to Charles Leland Jenkins of the above address.

The impressive ring ceremony was used, the Rev. William R. Sloan, rector in temporary charge of the Congregational church, officiating.

Besides the best man, Mr. Robert Tucker of Los Angeles, and little Dorothy Bonnell, who attended the bride, only members of the families and a very few friends were present.

The entire home was a mass of Cochet roses and fern, bowered and latticed together in every conceivable corner, the pink and green motif having been further carried out in the elaborate wedding collation which followed.

Mrs. Coral Harrison Sloan played the wedding march and also accompanied John T. Jenkins, brother of the groom and known as the famous boy soprano, who sweetly sang "Believe Me if All Those Endearing Young Charms."

Following a short reception, the happy young couple left for a wedding trip, from which they will return some time the latter part of the month to make their home in Glendale.

BABY BIRTHDAY PARTY

Saturday, August 8th, was little Elizabeth Young's third birthday and in honor of the occasion her mother, Mrs. E. L. Young, entertained a number of little tots with a pretty afternoon party in the family home, 1425 Milford street.

After a two-hour frolic on the lawn, the merry little guests were gathered in and served to a real tea party, the candies, ices and cakes having been carried out in pink and white, as were the flowers utilized throughout the house, as well as in the center of the table.

Those bidden to share this happy event with little Elizabeth were Grace Thompson, Dorothy Thompson, Janice Fletcher, Virginia Burriss, Gulla Smith, Susie Smith, Mary Mandreth, Charles Mandreth, Elbert Nichols, Ross Jenkins, Varena Peet and Graham Young, brother of the little honoree.

EVENING OF MUSIC

Miss Helen Beatrice Cooper of 1411 West Colorado boulevard entertained a few local and out-of-town friends in her home Monday evening, the affair having been impromptu and in the nature of a musical.

By request, Miss Cooper sang a number of very beautiful selections and as usual pleased her hearers with her full, rich voice.

As usual, for you know this charming hostess entertains in this manner quite frequently, a light collation was served and midnight arrived before anyone knew.

BIRTHDAY CELEBRATION

A well appointed dinner party given as a courtesy to Mr. Gassney and Mr. John Hurly, both visitors from Bradford, Pa., and at the same time a celebration of the birthday anniversary of the hostess, was enjoyed Tuesday evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Beamon, 245 South Maryland avenue.

Pink and white rosebuds were used in embellishing the home and table, where added features were a huge candle and confection adorned cake, tiny pink and white card and individual bonbon baskets that headed each of the nine places set.

Cards followed and were indulged in until a late hour, when all save Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. DuBois of Long Beach departed for their respective homes.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Chapman of 212 Howard street formally announce the engagement of their daughter, Mildred, to Mr. George Monberg, the wedding to take place in the near future.

Perhaps the best that can be hoped is that the war will be short and decisive—that the nations that are drawing the sword will speedily see their advantage in sheathing it again. When that time comes the peace-makers may have an opportunity.—San Diego Union.

You don't plant oats upon a hill
An hundred miles away,
And somewhere else your corn to drill
You know would never pay.
You plant at home to get the yield
Whatever crops are grown.
For planting in some other field
Will never help your own.
And it's the same with dollars,
For dollars, too, are seed.
The cash today you send away
Tomorrow you will need.
Don't send your cash afar to roam,
But, wiser, learn to sow,
Just plant your dollars here at home
And watch your dollars grow.

HE REACHED HIS LIMIT

The delightful southern gentleman of the old school, under whose insinuating tones and gracious bows the social barometer rose to summer heat, was not without his little prejudices when it came to outside barbarians.

"I'll give you my notion of things," repeatedly declared a sturdy old planter of Civil war time who bestowed much of his wisdom on a contributor. "I go first for Greenville, then for Greenville district, then for the up-country, then for South Carolina, then for the South, then for the United States—and after that I don't go for anything. I've no use for Englishmen, Turks and Chinese!"—Harper's Magazine.

TRIBUTE TO WAR GOD

Reports of the volume of the middle West wheat crop seem not to have been exaggerated. Crop news this year has greatly augmented the country's stock of optimism. Prices of necessities are rising in this country. This is the tribute the American people must pay to the war god. This is another argument in favor of universal peace.

STATE'S DEVELOPMENT

Development in California proceeds apace. From here, there and everywhere about the state come reports of agricultural and horticultural expansion, the building of new towns, the growth of the older cities and settlements, the establishment of new industries and the increase of population. It is a continuous forward movement, this development of California.

MAIL ORDER TRADER GETS GOOD LESSON

In Alhambra some time ago a man went into a store to buy a saw. He saw the kind he wanted and asked the price. It was $1.65 the dealer said.

"Good gracious," said the man, "I can get the same thing from the mail order house for $1.35."

"That's less than it cost me," said the dealer, "but I'll sell it on the same terms as the mail order house just the same."

"All right," said the customer, "you may send it along and charge it to my account."

"Not on your life," the dealer replied. "No charge accounts. You can't do business with the mail order house that way. Fork over the cash."

The customer complied. "Now, two cents postage and five cents for a money order."

"What—"

"Now two cents postage and five cents for a money order to a mail order house, you know."

The customer, inwardly raving, kept to his agreement and paid the seven cents.

"Now twenty-five cents expressage."

"Well, I'll be —," he said, but paid it, saying: "No hand me that saw and I'll take it home myself and be rid of this foolery."

"Hand it to you? Where do you think you are? You're in Alhambra and I'm in Chicago, and you'll have to wait two weeks for that saw."

Whereupon the dealer hung the saw on a peg and put the money in his cash drawer.

"That makes $1.67," he said. "It has cost you two cents more and taken you two weeks longer to get it than if you paid my price in the first place."

JUST THE OTHER WAY

Mrs. Benton tasted the savory morsel she had carefully compounded in the chafing dish and looked at her husband somewhat apprehensively. Then she said:

"Somehow, it doesn't taste just as Mrs. Mink's did the other night. Yet I thought I remembered the recipe all right. I suppose I must have left something out."

Mr. Benton tasted reflectively. "I don't think so," he remarked.

Mrs. Benton's face brightened visibly. Then her husband continued:

"There's nothing you could leave out," he said, "that would make it taste like this. It's something you've put in!"

The decision of a federal court that it will construe and enforce awards in arbitration under the Newlands act, suggests a new agency of industrial peace and orderly means of settling labor disputes.—Omaha Bee.

WHY JOHN C. CLINE SHOULD BE SHERIFF

He has lived in Los Angeles 45 years and everybody is familiar with his clean public record.

In 1894 as sheriff he handled the great American Railway Union strike without the aid of the militia, by appointing special deputies from the ranks of labor, to prevent disorder and the destruction of property. Thus in his wisdom demonstrating that men in any walk of life, put upon their honor, will observe their trust.

Copyright, 1914, by Panama-Pacific International Exposition Co.

THE photographer was stationed at the most northern of the three arched portals constituting the main western entrance to the palace and turned his camera to the north. The huge columns adorning this entrance are of imitation Siena and are in warm contrast with the creamish gray of the "Travertine" plaster of which the walls are composed.
The friezes at the base of the columns and the spandrels above the archways of the vestibule are the work of the sculptor Haig Patigian. In architectural style the Palace of Machinery is early Roman. The architect is Clarence R.
Ward of San Francisco.

SUPREME COURT RULING

power to "prescribe proper rules relating to the delivery of water." Inasmuch as it is the duty of the water company to deliver the water to the premises of the consumer and to lay the necessary service pipes for that purpose, as a part of the water system of the company, it is also the duty of the company to bear the expense of these pipes. It would be a proper rule for the delivery of the water to prohibit the company from charging this expense to the consumer, or from imposing payment of the charge as a condition precedent to the delivery of water to him. The city of Glendale had exercised this power. It passed an ordinance in 1912 requiring water companies to lay service connections at their own expense on demand, giving them authority to install meters at their own expense, forbidding such companies to charge the consumer for meters and declaring a violation of the ordinance to be a misdemeanor punishable by a fine, or imprisonment, or both.

Section 11 of article XI of the constitution provides that "Any county, city, town or township may make and enforce within its limits all such local, police, sanitary and other regulations as are not in conflict with general laws." There may be some room for doubt whether this would include the power to prohibit charges for service connections within the limits of the city, if it were considered apart from the foregoing clause of section 549 of the Civil Code giving power to prescribe rules for the delivery of water. Subdivision 14 of section 862 of the municipal corporation act empowers cities of the sixth class to punish violations of ordinances by fine and imprisonment as misdemeanors. This, in connection with the constitutional provision and the Civil Code, makes it plain that the city of Glendale has ample power to make and enforce the regulation.

In passing on the second question involved, to-wit: The jurisdiction of the railroad commission in making the order, the court goes into a lengthy discussion of the line of demarcation between the railroad commission and the various cities in the state of California in the matter of regulating public utilities, and concludes by deciding that the railroad commission did not have the jurisdiction to make the order herein-above referred to.

The most important point involved in the matter, of course, was the question as to whether or not, under the law, the water companies are compelled to furnish the service connections and meters under the laws of the state of California. This question is set at rest forever in this decision in favor of the consumers.

Since the passage of the public utilities act, it has been very difficult to determine in many cases whether the railroad commission or the cities of the state have the jurisdiction in the matter of regulating public service corporations, and in view of this doubtful condition of affairs, I placed in the ordinance fixing the rates for water service in Glendale, in 1912, 1913 and 1914, a provision which required the water companies to furnish the service connections and meters at their own cost, feeling that if the supreme court, or other courts to which the matter might be taken, did not agree with me in my opinion and with the railroad commission of the state of California in that the railroad commission has the jurisdiction, that the matter would then have been regulated by the city, and that no remedy for the protection of the consumers would be lost while the matter was being litigated. You will observe from the foregoing that the supreme court holds that the city of Glendale has properly passed such ordinances, and that it is within the power of the city to enforce the same, and now that the order of the railroad commission has been set aside, we have only to resort to our ordinances which have at all times been in full force and effect.

The bond, which the court required the water companies to execute guaranteeing the return to the various consumers the amounts paid by them for connections pending the outcome of the action, will be ineffective for that purpose inasmuch as this order has been annulled, but the water companies are under no less obligation to return to the various consumers all the amounts paid for service connections and meters since July 1st, 1912. I have had a conversation with Mr. W. G. Cooke, attorney for the water companies, since the opinion was handed down by the supreme court, and he told me that while he had not discussed the matter with his clients and co-counsel, he assumed that it would be the policy of the companies to strictly obey the ordinances of the city of Glendale, from which I infer that the refund will be willingly made by the water companies. In event the water companies are unwilling to make such refund, the only remedy left for the consumers is to bring suits for the amounts against the water company.
All can assign their claims to one person, who could maintain an action on behalf of all of the claimants.
W. E. EVANS, City Atty.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Regular monthly meeting Friday night, Aug. 14, at 8 o'clock, at the intermediate school. It is desired that all members be present, as there are two important questions coming up for discussion: A reduction of street car fare to L. A., making a fare of 10c one way and 15c round trip; also the dispensing with one phone in Glendale. Other neighboring towns are now paying for only one phone, and why can't Glendale do the same?
Now these two questions should interest every citizen of Glendale.
Come out and help us do things. The advertising folders of Glendale that have been on the way so long have reached us and can be had Friday night. Come, everybody.
H. A. WILSON, Secy.

MORALS AND WAR LOANS

Repeatedly the Lake Mohonk conferences on arbitration have discussed the ethical aspects of loans by non-combatants to warring nations. A body of opinion has been crystalliz-ing, tending to insist upon reprobation of persons who, for the sake of gain, furnish the wherewithal that finances war, and without which war could not be carried on. While, during the past fortnight the United States has been the main source of supply for the gold that has been so much coveted by Europeans and by European nations, the chief interest of a majority of onlookers, no doubt, has been to note the volume of the stream pouring out of the country and the capacity of the American market to absorb the securities offered by Europe. But a minority, it would seem, have been intent on another phase of the matter. Among them are thinkers, usually not in harmony with the Lake Mohonk pacifists, yet who have been constrained to say, "Our duty extends no further than the payment of our debts. Financing a war of aggression is a sort of immorality, making the operator an accomplice of a sort. Sympathy for the troubled nations should extend to condonation of their wrongdoing, and self-protection requires that the demands upon us should not be honored beyond the letter of our engagements." So writes one of the leading journalistic representatives of "high finance" in New York City.
Another journal of the same type says, "Could anything be more rational than a refusal by the United States, the government and the banking and business community acting together, to permit Europe to draw on this country further for the expense of the mad courses on which it is about to embark?"

If the United States can influence its own makers of munitions of war to quit making supplies for combatants in Mexico's civil war and thus interfere with a business that makes much of its profits by war, and if the government can do this in sup-

a business like banking, which often makes much of its profits by provid-

It has been left for this generation

There is enough money in this country to meet all needs and there is enough work to keep everybody busy, and the United States is at peace with all the world. We should not worry.

But if some of the teachers do not get back from Europe in time to meet their classes on the opening day of school, the boys and girls are ready to run things themselves in the interim.

THE VERSATILE KEEPER

Here is one that was told by Congressman Benjamin G. Humphreys the other night in throwing the harpoon into a medical friend who was a fellow guest at a banquet.

Some time ago the keeper of a museum was engaged in placing some new curios that had just arrived from Egypt, when he noticed a perplexed look on the face of his attendant.

"What's the matter, Smith?" he queried, going to the assistant. "Is there anything you don't understand?"

"Yes," answered Smith. "Here is a papyrus on which the characters are so badly traced that they are indecipherable. How shall I class it?"

"Let me see," returned the keeper, examining the curio. "Just call it a doctor's prescription in the time of the Pharaohs."

POLITICS IS A DUTY

The extreme solicitation of gang politicians lest organizations of a civic or moral nature should touch "politics" is amusing.

The professional politicians are willing that the liquor interests, the tenderloin interests and various other interests that train with them shall mix in public affairs—but the better class of citizens—never!

The politicians are ready to pray over any organization that gets off the track of "brotherly love" and to admonish the members as to their moral duties.

Of course, when a man goes into any organization outside of those which operate for the craft political gang, he forfeits his citizenship! He must keep quiet. Above all, he must restrain his associates from the grave offense of discussing candidates or measures.

The politician assumes a shocked and injured air if he hears that men and women desirous of promoting civic decency are discussing his unavailability for their purposes. It is too bad to add to the vexations that beset the latter-day patriot.

Now, there is a whole lot of difference between "politics" and "partisanship."

There is no better word in the English language than "politics." It relates to the science of government. The trouble is, a lot of men whose sole idea of government is "patronage" and "protection" have appropriated the word and given it a bad odor. It is time the better class of citizens rescued the word and made it respectable. And it is time for them to cease being frightened at the cry "Politics!" It is time to understand that there is a difference between politics and partisanship, between gang politics and civic activity. —Stockton Record.
